Why Settle-Carlisle catering staff are on strike

RMT members who provide catering services on the Northern Rail services on the Settle-Carlisle Line are on strike in support of a colleague who has been made 'redundant'.

However, the Settle-Carlisle Railway Development Company Limited is profitable and was set up to boost sustainable and economic development along the line.

Nobody takes strike action lightly, especially when you are proud of the service you provide - enhancing passengers' journeys on this beautiful railway.

But we are faced with a management which is forcing a colleague out of his job when there is no need to, and we have to stand up and be counted.

We believe that compulsory redundancy was wholly avoidable and that management has made no case for terminating our colleague's contract.

We hope you will support our campaign for justice

What YOU can do to help get our colleague's job back

You can help by e-mailing the Settle-Carlisle Railway Development Company general manager, Drew Haley, at drew@settle-carlisle.co.uk or calling the company on 01729 825888 to express dismay at its action. Thank you!
